

Cookies Policy

1. Our website uses cookies. A cookie is a small text file that we store on the web browser or hard drive of your device. We use cookies to anonymously distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve the site. By browsing our website you are impliedly consenting to the storage of cookies on your device from the site.

2. We use the following cookies:

2.1 Strictly necessary cookies. These cookies are required for the smooth operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of the site.

2.2 Analytical cookies. They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors to our website and to see how visitors move around it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

2.3 Functionality cookies. These are used to recognise you when you return to our website. This enables us to personalise our content for you and remember your preferences regarding certain areas of the site.

2.4 Flash cookies. Our site uses the Adobe Flash Player to deliver audio and video content. The Flash Player uses a Flash Cookie (or Local Shared Object as it is technically known) to provide functionality features such as saving video playback preferences.

3. You can find more information about the individual cookies we use and the purposes for which we use them in the table below.

4. You can block cookies by activating the option on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. Advice on blocking cookies on a variety of popular browsers can be found at the following link: <https://allaboutcookies.org/how-to-clear-cookies>. Alternatively, if your browser is not listed, consult the 'help' section of your browser for instructions on how to block cookies.

5. Not all browsers can delete Flash Cookies in the manner described in paragraph 4 above. If yours cannot, comprehensive information on how to delete or disable Flash Cookies from either a specific domain or all websites can be found on the Adobe website.

6. Please note that if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access parts of our website. Moreover, disabling Flash Cookies may result in you being unable to play content through our media players.